Governor's Reason For Pardoning Ed Alvey.

In the Jefferson County Circuit Court Ed Alvey, a noted Louisville gambler, was convicted, fined and sentenced to the penitentiary for 2 years. February 27 Gov. Beckham granted him a full pardon.

So much having been said regarding this act of the Governor, we give his reason.

"Reasons for pardon of Ed Alvey: This is the most barefaced and inexcusable case of judicial and political persecution that ever came before my notice. By a bold and shameful conspiracy this man Alvey was selected as the helpless victim, while others equally as guilty or more so, who seem to bask in the sunshine of official favor, are allowed absolute immunity from prosecution in the Jefferson Criminal Court. Has the prosecution been animated by an earnest and honest desire to stamp out all gambling in the city of Louisville? If so, then they would have met with the hearty co-operation of the Chief Executive in their efforts, and I stand ready now, whenever and wherever it may be in my power to aid the officers of the law, where they are honest, in seeking to enforce the law against gambling, without partiality or favor to anyone."

"Has such been the case in the recent indictments and trial in Louisville? The record before me and the information I have received certainly do not show it. Why is it that indictments have not been returned against the most notorious gambler in the city? And why is it that indictments against others have been dismissed under a corrupt bargain that they would give evidence against this man and one Miles. Is Alvey made the object of particular vengeance because he had become a dangerous rival in the business to some others?

"Gambling is a crime punished by severe penalties under our statutes and it ought to be stamped out if possible by a rigid and impartial enforcement of the law. I would gladly see the city of Louisville freed from this vice, but if it is allowed at all, then I would say it would be preferable under the principles of competition rather than of monopoly.

"This warfare seems to have been inspired, not by an intention to suppress gambling, but by a desire to destroy competition in that business. The papers before me show beyond doubt that this man was convicted upon evidence secured by one of the most infamous bargains ever tolerated in any court.

"One of the employed prosecutors, who has been conspicuous in his professed advocacy of honest elections and has been Peter the Hermit in this one-eyed crusade against the gambling vice, according to the papers before me, negotiated the deal, claiming to act with the sanction and approval of the court.

"By this agreement, which, by the proceedings in court recently, seemed to be fully carried out, these men were dismissed from the charges against them, and by their testimony a verdict was secured against Alvey, who, either by reason of his competitive qualities or his political affiliations, seems to have incurred the especial hatred and animosity of the prosecution.

"I have filed before me, in what I am assured is the handwriting of the Prosecuting Attorney before referred to, affidavits which he prepared for these men to sign after the agreement was made. I copy the first paragraph.

State of Kentucky, s. s. —Jefferson county: The adjutant, Logan Schwabner, says this affidavit is made of his own free will and accord and without solicitation of anyone. He says he has been promised no reward of immunity from punishment on trial under the indictment pending against him in the Jefferson Circuit Court.

"If this handwriting is genuine, as I believe it is, then he sought to make these men swear to what he said they knew to be false. Gambling is bad enough, but perjury and subornation of perjury are worse, and it is startling that such methods should be resorted to for the conviction of anyone.

"I, therefore, as a rebuke to the character of such a prosecution, and not as a condemnation to the offense of gambling, which I am ever ready to aid in suppressing, grant this pardon to Alvey upon the assurance from him that he will not again violate the law.

J. C. W. BECKHAM,

Governor."

BOURBON COUNTY ITEMS.

The March term of the Bourbon Circuit Court convened Monday.

Mr. Ed. F. Sims, of Paris, left for Manila, Philippine Islands, on a prospecting tour.

An offering of more than $200 for Foreign Missions was made at the Paris Christian church on March 3.

There was a severe wind storm in the county on Sunday, 3rd. At Centerville a colored camp meeting was in progress. The wind picked the church building up and completely turned it around. The pastor happened to be just in the midst of an exhortation describing the end of the world, and when the sudden reversing of the building came the congregation thought the end had come. It is said the confessions of sins made during the excitement covered everything from chicken stealing to highway robbery.

The old Harvey Kerr house, near North Middletown, owned by Mr. Henry Berry was burned March 3. The wind was blowing a hurricane, and the fire spread to the surrounding fields, and Roger Talbot lost a considerable amount of fencing.

There is a well developed plan on foot to build an electric railroad from Paris to Sharpburg, calling at North Middletown and Flat Rock. The promoters are said to be R. J. Neely, Mr. Henry Powers and Mr. T. Earl Ashbrook, of Paris, and Mr. Smith, of Harrison county, and Mr. Alexander, of Bath county. A committee was appointed by the court to confer with these gentlemen, relative to the right of way.

Prof. Eison, of Lexington, Md., suffered terribly from neuralgia of the stomach and indigestion for thirteen years and after the doctors had failed to cure him they fed him on morphine. A friend advised the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and after taking a few bottles of it he says, "It has cured me entirely. I can't say too much for Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat." F. C. Duerksen.

Race Track Sold.

The Kentucky Association race track at Lexington has been sold to A. H. Bos for $20,000. There are about 60 acres in the tract.

"Failing to find relief from the grip with old methods, I took Dr. Miles' Pain Pills, Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills and was permanently cured."—Gust. Egan, Jackson, Mich.

Municipal Ownership.

Carter, H. Harrison was nominated for Mayor of Chicago for the third term by the Democratic city convention Tuesday. There was no opposition to his re-nomination, the nomination being made by acclamation amid great cheering. The platform as adopted strongly favors the ultimate municipal ownership of "all public utilities" including street railways and lighting plants, and included a resolution of sympathy for the Boers.

In the Senate Vice President Roosevelt sharply rebuked the galleries, which laid-on applauding him when he appears.

"I was given up to die from heart and nervous troubles, caused by grip. Six bottles each of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve cure me."—Mrs. John Wollet, Jefferson, Wis.

There is talk of an electric railway to run from Harrodsburg to Junction City.

Kilgore, Ky., Jan. 24, 1901.—To whom this may concern: We, Thomas Bros., of Kilgore, Ky., have the firm of Wilson & Freeman to sell our celebrated coal in the county of Montgomery, and no other firm or individual is authorized to sell in said county the same brand of coal from us. Hydrophobia in Sheep.

D. S. Clay, a prominent lawyer of Williamstown, had fine flock of 50 Southdown ewes. A rabid dog passed through his farm and bit a number of the sheep. In about ten days one of the ewes was seized with rabies, and the poor animal died in great agony. The sheep have continued to die of rabies, only three are left.

OH YES, I AM A SOUTHERN GIRL

John Uri Lloyd's Lost War Ballad is Fanned.

Brown McClelland, the 15-year-old boy of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. McClelland, of 231 East High street, has found the war ballad beginning "Oh yes, I am a southern girl," two stanzas of which are quoted from memory by John Uri Lloyd in "Stringtown on the Pike," and for which Mr. Lloyd has offered a reward of $100. Mr. Lloyd made an effort to find the ballad in order to quote the exact words, and failing to do so depended upon his memory. Young Mr. McClelland read the article on the subject in last Sunday's Leader and instantly recalled that he had read the ballad in one of the family books. He found it in a book entitled "Southern Poems of the War," published in 1867 by a Baltimore printing house, and collected and arranged by Miss Emily V. Mason. The ballad is entitled "The Homespun Dress" and was sung to the air of "Bonnie Blue Flag." The name of the writer is not given in Miss Mason's book, and while the full text of the ballad will undoubtedly be appreciated by Mr. Lloyd the question of its authorship is unsettled. A copy of the ballad has been sent to Mr. Lloyd in Cincinnati. The Leader is permitted to copy it in full from the book. It follows:

THE HOMESpun DRESS.
Air—Bonnie Blue Flag.
Oh yes, I am a Southern girl,
And boast in the name
And boast it with far greater pride
Than glittering wealth or fame.
We wear not the Northern girl
Her robes of beauty rare,
Though diamonds grace her snowy neck,
And pearls bedeck her hair.
Hurrah! Hurrah!
For the sunny South so dear,
Three cheers for the homespun dress
The Southern ladies wear.
The homespun dress is plain, I know,
My hat's a palmetto, too;
But then you know what Southern girls
For Southern rights will do.
We send the bravest of our land
To battle with the foe,
And we will lend a helping hand—
We love the South, you know,
Chorus, etc.
New Northern groats are out of date;
And since old Abe's blockade,
We Southern girls can be content
With goods that Southern made.
We send our sweethearts to the war;
Not dear girls, never mind—
Your soldier loves us never forget
The girl he left behind.
Chorus, etc.
The soldier is the lad for me—
A brave heart I adore;
And when the sunny South is free,
And when fighting is no more,
I'll choose him then a lover brave
From out that gallant band.
The soldier lad I love the best
Shall have my heart and hand.
Chorus, etc.
The Southern land's a glorious land,
And has a glorious cause;
Then cheer, three cheers for Southern rights,
And for the Southern boys.
We scorn to wear a bit of silk,
A bit of Northern lace,
But make our homespun dresses up,
And wear them with a grace.
Chorus, etc.
And now, young man, a word to you:
If you would win the fair,
Go to the fields where home calls,
And win your lady there.
Remember that our brightest smiles
Are for the true and brave,
And that our tears are all for those
Who fill a soldier's grave.
Chorus, etc.
—Lexington Leader.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomach can take it. F. C. Duerksen.

There are reports afloat that a negro who displayed some impudence has been roundly whipped and directed to leave the city. He is still here. An impudent man to women, be he white or black, deserves to be whipped.

"Who are you going to vote for?" This question was put this way to a reliable gentleman a few days ago. "Who am I going to vote for?" and to this question he responded: "I will vote for capable men. I won't vote for the man who himself drinks or the one who tempts others to drink." That man was exactly correct.

Word comes to us that John D. McIntyre, editor of the Bath County Democrat, is being urged to become a candidate for the Legislature from the counties of Bath and Rowan. Mr. McIntyre would make a capital representative who would have a mind of his own on all subjects. We are glad these counties are prevailing upon a sober, industrious, working man to represent them. Mr. McIntyre should yield to their requests and accept the nomination, which we believe would be unanimously tendered.

Some weeks ago we set some of our people agoing from the sentiment expressed showing we favored the construction of electric railroads to Mt. Sterling. Since then we have had occasion to investigate the effects of these roads on business interests in other towns under like circumstances and are confirmed in our belief that nothing would bring about better results in the way of low freight rates and increased business. Mt. Sterling can have a line line to Sharpsburg, if it will act now, and if the city won't, then there will be another to come in after the rich plum.

Our Republican contemporary would have the people to generally believe that in the Democratic Senatorial Committee meeting great unfairness was done. Well! That was a Democratic committee and it was Democrats that had submitted their claims to the Committee. And since each candidate was not agreed in his desires as to time and manner of holding conventions, one or the other must needs be disappointed. The fact is we submitted to the action of that committee—we expected nothing but fairness and if our committee were unjust in their decisions they will be held to strict account, but as it is, all Democrats should be satisfied—should work hard for their choice of men and when the convention has decided we will all be agreed and will allow no outsider in any way to disturb our equilibrium, while we go onward to swell Democratic majorities.

Precinct Conventions in Senatorial District.

The Democratic District Committee for the Twenty-eight Senatorial District, met at Winchester on Saturday afternoon to fix the time, place and manner of selecting a candidate for Senator. Precinct conventions will be held June 15 to select delegates to the district convention to be held in Paris, June 19. The district is composed of Clark, Bourbon and Montgomery counties.

WATER WORKS.

Some of our people have been agitated a little concerning flying reports regarding steps to be taken by the Water Works Company which might not be beneficial to the city. We did not believe the company would undertake any thing of this kind, for in the end it would be to their disadvantage.

The committee to confer with the Water Company and report back to the Council has been seen and we are assured the people's interests will be well guarded.

The company asked that the main from the standpipe be reduced from a 12 inch to a 10 inch pipe, but Mr. Nelson, Secretary for Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Fire Underwriters' Association, reports that a 10 inch main would not meet the requirements in order to give Mt. Sterling the best fire rates, and Mayor Baird having expert advice that a 10 inch main is not sufficient, this matter is settled by the company withdrawing the request for a 10 inch main.

Hydrants will be located by a committee consisting of one Councilman from each ward, and this committee will see it that the city is fully protected.

We have interviewed the manager of the Water Company, and he assures us the city of Mt. Sterling will receive the best of water service and that it will be protected to that extent that we will get the very best insurance rate; and further, they are not seeking to get any advantages.

Economy will be used in the construction of the plant, but the water will be wholesome and sufficient to supply the city at a low rate for all purposes—protection, domestic and manufacturing interests.

Louisville, Ky., March 5, 1901. Live Stock Editor, "Advocate," Mt. Sterling, Ky.

My Dear Sirs:—A few days ago I forwarded to your paper a copy of an article with reference to the Interstate Fair. Recognizing the fact that your city is perhaps the largest stock cattle and sheep market in the State, and that you are probably as well posted upon such subjects as any gentleman in the State, and will feel some interest in our fair which will give opportunity for the development of a general interest in live stock, we will be very glad to have you co-operate with us in our effort to make our Fair what we mean it to be—the greatest cattle show in America, barring neither the Kansas City nor Chicago shows.

Arrangements have been made between the Fair management and the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders' Association whereby the latter have undertaken the management of the live stock exhibit, and I will be very glad if you will put yourself in communication with Mr. Thos. L. Hornsby, President of the Association, at Eminence, Ky.; and with Mr. M. W. Neal, Secretary of the Association at Louisville, in order that they have the benefit of your views and assistance.

A SILENT WITNESS.

Typewriting Machine Convicts a Wife—Murder in New Zealand. A typewriter was the strongest witness for the prosecution in a case of attempted poisoning just tried in New Zealand, says the New York World.

The prisoner, Henry Vincent Syche, was charged with trying to murder his wife through the agency of Dr. Sheehan and Clayton.

The doctor told how he had received a typewritten letter describing a woman in chronic ill health who had said that she would "just as soon be dead as sick all the time."

The writer added that if the doctor should be called to attend this woman and if she should die $200 would be sent to him three months afterward. If the doctor agreed he was to advertise in the local paper for a dog cart.

The police had the dog-cart advertisement published, and almost immediately Syche's wife called on Dr. Clayton for treatment.

Syche himself called on the doctor and spoke about treatment for his wife, for whom, however, he seemed to have great affection. Dr. Clayton thereupon showed Syche the typewritten letters he had received. The man betrayed himself by his agitation, but nothing was done by the police. The evidence was not all in.

There was only one person, however, who could describe the peculiarities of the machine in the prisoner's office and who could swear that no other machine could in probability have such a combination of peculiarities.

Syche confessed that there was a joint insurance policy for $300 on his own and his wife's life. He declared that he did not need money, that he and his wife loved each other deeply and that she had gone to Dr. Clayton of her own accord.

He was found guilty and sentenced to seven years in prison. This is the first time that a typewriter has been called in as a witness in a murder case.

SOME SLEEP UPSIDE DOWN.

Curious Habits of Sloths, Bats and Great Antaters.

There is one animal which lives entirely in trees, but is able to maintain its position during slumber without the least exercise of muscular force. This is the sloth, common in the forests of tropical America. Its long claws are so bent that they hook over the branches and allow the creature to hang upside down like an animated hammock. Curiously enough, the hammock appears to be a South American invention, and is universally employed by all the Indian tribes of the Amazon. Perhaps, observed in this connection a writer in Pearson's Magazine, the primitive human dwellers in this region took to sleeping in hammocks, after observing the habits of the sloth.

The great antater, which is both a kinsman and fellow countryman of the sloth, has an enormous tail, which is a very remarkable manner. Two of these animals were recently seen lying together asleep, and they had arranged their tails so cleverly that their whole bodies were hidden from view. The caudal covering afforded excellent protection from the weather, for the central, solid part of the tails acted as a kind of ridgepole over the light part of the sleepers' bodies, so that the long fringes of hair sloped downward on each side like the thatch upon a roof.

Like the sloths, many kinds of bats sleep suspended by their hooked claws without any muscular exertion whatever. Some of the large fruit-eating bats of the tropics, which do not sleep in holes like the species common in southern latitudes, but which hang suspended to the branches of trees in the open air, adopt a position which it would be difficult to beat for economy and comfort. Gould's fruit-eating bat, common in the warmer parts of Australia, suspends itself upside down by one hind foot, and wraps its body in the tent-like folds of its wing membranes.

Wrinkles Come

To many a face which should still be smooth and fair. Worry doesn't bring them. There are no cares and anxieties to frown the face. They are the signs of physical suffering, graven by the hand of pain. It is the saddest result of the diseases which affect the womanly organs that they write plainly the record of suffering on the face and form. The skin becomes sallow, the cheeks are sunken, the eyes look dull, the body falls away. No woman who values her health or good looks should neglect to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the diseases of the womanly organs. It cures irregularity, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It lights up the eye, brightens the complexion, and rounds out the sunken curves of the body.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. Thomas E. "I was troubled with bearing down pains in my back and hips and I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured me. I feel like a new person, and I thank Dr. Pierce for my health. Life is a burden to any one who has health. I have had a great many of my friends about the great medicine I took."

Dr. Pierce's Complete Medical Adviser, 100 pages, sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 31 cents for cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion on such remedies are relied on. H. T. Shupe, 274 Lenoir Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a skin eruption on her face, which was treated by the use of the face cream, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was used, the eruption began to disappear. A second bottle cured her completely, and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the skin disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexion. It makes the skin red, itchy and inflamed, and makes the old and makes new, rich blood. It makes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part toward carrying off the impurities from the body. If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Dermatitis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

The Ashland Daily News, a Republican sheet, has joined the innumerable caravan of newspapers that have moved to the mysterious realm. Come to think of it, there is very little reason for the average Republican paper and many so-called Democratic papers to exist, and it is a pity that they do not follow suit.—Stanford Journal.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL

WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES & LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

A farmer drifted into a hardware store and was asked by the manager: "Don't you want to buy a bicycle to ride around your farm? They're awful cheap this spring; can give you one for $30." "I'd sooner put $30 in a cow," said the farmer. "But only think," replied the manager, "how foolish you would look riding around your farm on a cow." Had His Own Girl.

One of the churches in a little Western town is so fortunate as to have a young woman as its pastor. She was called to the door of the parsonage, and saw there a much embarrassed young farmer of the German type. "Day said the minister died in his house," she said.

"Yes," replied the fair pastor. "Well—(I want to kiss her!)" "To get married! Very well, I can marry you," said the minister, encouragingly.

"O, but I got a girl already," was the disconcerting reply.—Brooklyn Life.

Filipino Belles.

Arthur Fitzpatrick wrote to his sister in this city several weeks ago. We clip a few items. He was at San Isidro, P. I.

"We have now few announcements here and time hangs heavily on our hands. Our only pastime is trying to talk to Filipino 'belles' whose lips and teeth are blood red from chewing betel nuts; they think it quite nice but I can't see it that way. You should see their dresses, too; short sleeves, low neck and skirts that stop just below the knee. No shoes or stockings ever disgrace their feet and legs, but men, women, girls and children all go barefooted."

"Say, but we had a good time Thanksgiving and a swell dinner, but we had to substitute chicken for turkey, as we could not get the latter. There was a ball game and a Filipino band that made beautiful music."

"The scrapping is about over, I think, but our duties are pretty hard, anyway. We have to drill, do guard and scout duty, and in all, our time is pretty well filled up. You asked about my time, well, it will be out the 31st of October, 1901, and I may then stay here awhile longer."

Divorce Granted to the Wife of A Former Resident of This City.

On Monday of last week in St. Louis, a divorce was granted to Mrs. Nellie H. Laughlin, wife of Henry D. Laughlin. The cause of the estrangement was his preference for the society of other women. He lives in Chicago and is the largest stockholder in the Great Northern Hotel Co.

They have four sons and a daughter; the youngest is a son; the others are grown. Mrs. Laughlin is to receive $2,000 yearly and the income of some residence property in St. Louis, and the custody of his youngest child.

The Laughlins lived in this city in the present home of Judge M. M. Cassidy just before Mr. Cassidy moved to it March 4, 1869.

Might Have Been Serious.

On last Thursday at the intersection of Sycamore with Winn street, Mrs. Rankin Whitsett's horse became frightened at some ashes that had been thrown in a washout and shyed, upsetting the buggy and throwing Mrs. Whitsett out. She fortunately sustained no injuries and the damage to the buggy was very slight. At this juncture it is dangerous because of the narrowness of Winn street and the high embankment on the north side. We would again notify the Council that steps should be taken to make this a less dangerous place.

After an illness of five weeks from the grip, Mrs. Hattie Jackson is again about and looking fine. She began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine after the fourth week. Her home is in Bowling Green, Mo.

Presidents' Party.

The "Presidents' Party" given by ladies of Baptist Missionary Society at residence of Dr. B. F. Thomson on Friday evening was one of the prettiest entertainments ever seen here. The house, always pretty, was still further beautified by elaborate and artistic decorations in the National colors. The canopy of red, white and blue bunting over the candy table was especially artistic. The trio-colored bunting was festooned around the walls of the dining room and pictures of all the Presidents were displayed. The dining table was set for a wedding feast and was a thing of beauty, being circular, sixteen seats, and decorated in the prevailing colors, the centerpiece being an immense fern. Eight candelabras holding crimson candles gave the light. A substantial luncheon was served. A number represented Presidents and others came in costumes of "yesteryear." Games of Presidents' "Party" were played and added to the enjoyment. Each guest paid "pennies three" for each President during their life. The proceeds, about $40.00, will be used to furnish a room at Baptist College at Pineville, Ky.

WINCHESTER NOTES.

There is considerable building in progress in different parts of the town. R. A. Swoboda bought of J. B. Farris the latter's residence on East Broadway for $1,800.

M. M. Cassidy, of Mt. Sterling, spent Friday night with his son-in-law, M. T. McElwainey.

Miss Emma Pigg, daughter of Dock Pigg, died Friday morning and was buried Saturday at the Tuttle grave yard.

George O. Tobe and Miss Katherine Tobbs bought of Mrs. Laura Shoupkins and others, 229 acres of land lying partly in Fayette and partly in Bourbon counties at $66.25 per acre.

James S. Wade has erected stock yards on the C. & O. road near the depot, on the property he recently purchased from Mr. N. H. Witherspoon. He has also begun the erection of a large stable at the same place.

The new dormitory of the Wesleyan College will be occupied in a few days; as soon as the rooms are thoroughly dried. The building is of brick, three stories high, and is quite attractive. It is known as Thomas Clark Hall, in honor of him as a liberal contributor.

In the Circuit Court A. J. Alumbaugh's administrator secured a verdict for $10,000 against the L. & N. railroad. In 1893 young Alumbaugh was stealing a ride from Elkin to Richmond and fell or was thrown from the train and was killed. His administrator secured a verdict for $10,000. This was reversed by the Court of Appeals and a new trial granted, resulting as stated. The company will again appeal.

A Sensation.

Talk about your sensational scenes in a play, read this: While the "Lost in Egypt Co." were playing in Atlanta, Ga., a scene occurred that was not on the programme. During the action of the second act occurs the celebrated "whipping scene," which, by the way, is one of the most thrilling ever conceived. Seated in one of the boxes was ex-Mayor W. P. Hemphill and family, who created a sensation by clapping and in a voice of command, ordered the scene to be stopped or the curtain to be rung down. Remonstrance from the local manager was useless, but while the harangue was going on in the box, the scene on the stage was ended and the curtain came down amid thunders of applause.

The managers of "Lost in Egypt" were indignant to ex-Mayor Hemphill, for through his excited action all the Georgia newspapers took it up, and by so doing were instrumental in advertising the company far and near, more thoroughly than they could do on their own account.

At Grand Opera House, March 14 only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Rev. C. Body was in a serious condition at his home in St. Paul, O., but Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills pulled him through all right.

LONGFELLOW'S YOUTH.

Autograph Letter of the Poet's Father Makes Strange Revelations
Judging from an autograph letter of his father's recently made public, the poet Longfellow was busy sowing oats when he was attending Bowdoin college. The letter was written by the elder Longfellow to Prof. Cleveland in 1825, his son being then an undergraduate.

"Dear Sir," he wrote to the professor, "I lament extremely that my son should have been so regardless of his character and inattentive to his duties as to require the punishment which has been inflicted upon him. Having warned him most earnestly of the danger of the course he was pursuing, I had indulged a hope that reform would have been produced, and that he would have more wisely improved his time and advantages. But in this I have been most sadly disappointed. Still I cherish the hope that his suspension may have a salutary effect on him, and that by diligence he may redeem some of the time which has been shamefully misapplied. Perhaps I am influenced too much by parental affection, but with all his errors, I think he has talents and an amiable disposition; and I most earnestly hope that he may be reclaimed. As he had been constantly furnished with money to pay his bills, I am quite unable to conjecture the purpose for which he wanted that which he borrowed of you, but I am much obliged by your kindness in advancing it, and now inclose you the amount in a five and ten-dollar bill of the United States bank."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

MADE IN WASHINGTON.

Little Dental Instrument That is Making Its Manufacturers Rich.

"Washington may not be a great manufacturing city," said a dentist to a Star reporter, "but there is one little instrument that is made here that goes all over the world. It is an indispensable article in the dental business and one that is familiar to thousands of people, probably millions. It is the instrument with which dentists remove the nerve of a tooth after the nerve has been killed. The purpose of killing the nerve is to fill the cavity that exists and that has exposed the nerve to air, causing pain and trouble. After the dentist has treated the nerve some time and believes it is dead, he takes one of these instruments, pushes it down into the cavity, turns it around a few minutes and pulls out the dead nerve—a long stringlike thing. The end of the little instrument is made rough, having tiny teeth. When these come in contact with the dead nerve they catch it on the little prongs and the dentist takes it out without trouble. It is called a canal cleaner, in technical terms. The instruments are made in Washington and are distributed throughout the world by means of a New York firm that has the sole agency. The owner of the patent has probably made a fortune."

BETTER THAN A DEED.

Old Seven-Foot Gun Took the Place of Title Papers.

When the Virginian who lived in the wretched log cabin with a family of seven had told me that 40 acres of his land was a solid coal bed, I asked him if his deed was all right.

"Never had no deed, sah," he replied proudly.

"But have you no papers at all?"

"No paper, 'tall, sah. I just acted down on this yere land 30 years ago, and hev bin yere ever since."

"But if you have no papers won't the owner come along some day and bounce you out?"

"Not skassly, sah—not skassly. That is to say, sah, that the real owner has come along three different times and tried it, and every time he got killed and had to give it up. Deeds and such things are all right 'nuff in their way, but my old gun, with a barrel seven feet long, is a heap better right around yere,"—Washington Post.

Masonic Temple.

Judge John A. Ramsey, of Owingsville, and W. P. Oldham, this city, were in Louisville last week with officers of Grand Lodge of Kentucky Masons, representatives from each Congressional district composing a committee, to select plans and specifications for a new temple to be located in Louisville. One of the committee was Hon. James D. Black, our next Governor.

A DARKY'S SONG.

Almost Blocked Traffic in Busy New York Streets
It was only a song, and an old one at that, but it came near causing a block on the Broadway cable line the other day. The singer, says the New York Mail and Express, was as black as the coal in the cart he was driving, but that fact cast no shadow on his exuberant spirits. As he swung his chariot from Broadway into Cortlandt street he raised his voice. Then the trouble began.

When the notes of "Old Black Joe" rang out high and clear above the din of traffic expressions of blank amazement overpowered the faces of the hurrying pedestrians who thronged the sidewalks. Necks craned in a vain search for the location of some newly patented phonograph. Crowds collected and gazed vacantly upon the air, as if they expected to locate the sound in some office window. Teams were drawn up until a long line of trucks extended up Cortlandt street to Broadway, barring access to the street, that their drivers might ascertain the cause of the crowd's curiosity. Suddenly a newsboy cried:

"Ah, rubber! Don'tcher see it's only de rubber a singin'!"
The crowd laughed. The darky now lustily holding forth on "The Sawane River," turned sharply into Church street, fully oblivious to the excitement he had caused. The crowd then dispersed and the long line of wagons began to move once more.

"Well!" exclaimed a Jerseyman on his way to the ferry, "New Yorkers call country people curious, but—!" He shrugged his shoulders and passed on.

An Educational Departure.
An educational departure in Wisconsin next summer will be the opening of a summer school at the state university for apprentices and artisans. It will be for the benefit of machinists, carpenters or sheet metal workers; stationary, marine or locomotive engineers; shop firemen and superintendents of waterworks, electric light plants, power stations, factories, large office and store buildings in cities, and for the young men who wish to qualify themselves for such positions.

The Samoan Islands.

German plantation experts claim that the Samoan islands have a great future in coffee, tea, rubber, cotton, etc. Upolu island, it seems, is especially suitable for the culture of all these products, possessing, as it does favorable position, a fruitful soil and a good climate. A company is at present being formed in Germany for the purpose of exploiting this island.

Afraid of Electric Lights.

In 1881 the Savoy theater was lighted with electricity, and was probably the first public building to be so lighted. The public seemed to feel that there was great danger in the new illuminant. Mr. D'Oyley Carte showed that the pilot light of the gas chandelier was always kept burning, so that the auditorium could be flooded with gaslight at a moment's notice. He then smashed an electric lamp bulb to show that there was no danger from this source. The audience was invited, after the performance, to go behind the scenes to see the electric lighting on the stage.—Scientific American.

Very Sick.

For several days it has been reported that ex-President Harrison of Indiana was much indisposed. His attack has resulted in pneumonia, and his condition is alarming.

Contradicted.

The Washington Star says negotiations have been practically completed by which the Pennsylvania railroad will lease the Chesapeake and Ohio for 999 years on a guarantee of a 3 per cent dividend on the stock of the latter system. President Callaway, of the New York Central, who is a director in the Chesapeake and Ohio, says no such lease is contemplated.

Berry will be succeeded by G. Linn Gooch, of Covington; Gayle by South Trimble, of Frankfort; Pugh, Republican, by James N. Kehoe, Democrat, of Mayeville, and Fitzpatrick by John B. White, of Irvine.

BENTON.—Death came suddenly to Mrs. Willie, wife of J. H. Benton, on last Sunday at 12:30 p. m. For some time she had been suffering from heart disease and recently returned from Louisville where she failed to be benefited. She was in her room at her home, North Mayville street, reading a book, while her husband took his dinner with his daughter, Mrs. H. B. Kinsolving. Mr. Benton carried but a moment and returned with a dinner for his wife, and found her sitting where he had left her in her room apparently in a pleasant sleep. Mr. Benton spoke to his wife saying, I will leave your dinner here for you and receiving no response he observed she was not breathing. Dr. R. Q. Draks was summoned, but she was too far gone to respond to treatment. Mrs. Benton was the 4th daughter of William and Elizabeth Roberts Ragan, was born May 23, 1838, and would have been 63 years old the coming May. She was married to Mr. John H. For many years she had been a member of the Mt. Sterling Christian church.

Trembling Nerves

Are hungry nerves—nerves that are starved until they have no vitality left. They have lost all power to regain their natural strength and steadiness. You who are restless, nervous, fidgety, depressed in spirits, worried, worn-out and sleepless, should feed your nerves. Build them up and give them new life and strength before they fail you entirely. Now is the time to do it; and the best food you can use is

"My daughter was so nervous that she trembled all the time, and at night she was so restless that she slept but little, frequently twitching and jerking while asleep. She had been growing worse for some time when we began giving her Dr. Miles' Nervine. The first night she rested well, and five bottles made her nerves as strong and steady as they ever were."

Two Great Men.

Two hundred men, Kentuckians, who the Lexington Herald judges the most competent, were asked to name twelve greatest of Kentucky's dead. They were asked to count as Kentuckians those who were born elsewhere but came to and lived in Kentucky; those who were born in Kentucky but moved from and did their life's work outside Kentucky; and those who were born, lived and died Kentuckians. One hundred and twenty have answered and the majority have named Henry Clay, Abraham Lincoln, John Cabell Breckinridge, George Rogers Clark, Jefferson Davis, John Jordan Crittenden, George Robertson, Daniel Boone, Albert Sidney Johnston, Robert Jefferson Breckinridge, George Dennison Prentice, Ephraim McDowell. These men were great in their special work, but to say they were the greatest would be a guess only. To know the greatest men is attained by the considering of every point that measures greatness.
